
THE FINAL WALKTHROUGH · FIELD NOTE 19

Take photos that explain the work.

Useful cleaning photos are consistent, dated, and private. Choose a view that shows the area clearly without exaggerating the before or hiding the after.

YOUR KIT

Camera; agreed photo permissions; private storage

SAME ANGLE. BETTER EVIDENCE. · EDITORIAL PHOTOGRAPHY

Three deliberate steps.

01 Choose the view

Use the same position, framing, and light before and after where practical. Capture a wide room view plus details relevant to the cleaning scope.

02 Keep context in the frame

Show the actual area and note anything that changed between shots. Do not edit away damage, add artificial mess, or claim stock imagery is a customer result.

03 Separate service records from marketing

Store completion records privately. Obtain appropriate permission before marketing use and remove identifying belongings, people, addresses, and access details.

The final check.

- ☐ Comparable before and after views
- ☐ Accurate date and context
- ☐ Permission checked before public use

Know when to pause.

No photograph proves sanitation or shows every surface. Record limitations and unresolved issues in writing.

Better evidence starts with an honest frame.

Always follow the surface maker's care instructions and product label. Never mix cleaning products. This guide is for ordinary household care, not hazardous-material remediation. Product-specific instructions take priority.
